ABSTRACT

Fall 1980 and 1981 data on the geographic origins of first-time students at the State University of New York are presented. For each year, four sections of information are presented. Section one contains summary data for the complete State University system. Total and full-time enrollment data for first-time students are presented for each type of institution and for each individual institution. In addition, a systemwide summary of the permanent residences of first-time students is provided. Section two contains tables for each institution that display the institution's total and full-time enrollment of first-time students and their county of permanent residence. Section three contains separate tables for each New York county. This format provides information on the number of first-time students attending the State University from each New York county, and specifies the State University institution in which they are enrolled. Additional tables indicate the institutional affiliation of first-time students from other states. Finally, section four provides additional data pertaining to full-time first-time student enrollment, including the high school status and age group. (SW)

INTRODUCTION

These reports present the results of this office's annual survey of the geographic origins of first-time students. Data are provided on the permanent residence of all first-time credit course students attending State University institutions. With minor modifications to account for special circumstances, a first-time student is a student who, prior to being reported as a first-time student in this report, has not been enrolled at any college or university.

All institutions of the State University System which have first-time students are included in this report. The following institutions are not included because they do not have first-time students: College of Technology at Utica/Rome, Buffalo Health Sciences Center, Downstate Medical Center, Stony Brook Health Sciences Center, College of Optometry and the College of Veterinary Medicine.

While this report is restricted to first-time students, a companion volume, Geographic Origins of Students, provides permanent residence data for all credit course students. These two volumes, which have been published since Fall 1968, comprise a significant data resource for studies of the residence and migration of college and university students. The data contained in these volumes have been especially useful for enrollment projections and other facets of academic planning and policy development.

Although most studies of geographic origins of college students suffer from the problem of valid definition "permanent residence", studies of first-time students are probably quite free of the customary definitional inconsistencies. This is the case since first-time students have never been to a college previous to the term in which they are reported, and the great majority are less than 20 years old and likely to be single, living at home when applying, and then enrolling as full-time students. It is these latter factors which tend to change as the student grows older, and, as a consequence, make the determination of the student's permanent residence more difficult.

The student and institutional data elements which enter into this report are as follows:

A. Student data elements

   1. Student load (full-time/part-time)
   2. Permanent residence (for New York State residents, county of residence; all other students are identified simply as non-New York, United State residents or foreign. Information on the permanent residence of non-New York students by U.S. State and foreign country is available for all credit course students in the Geographic Origins of Students)

B. Institutional data elements

1. Institutional location (for state-operated institutions, the county of location; and for community colleges, the sponsorship area)

This publication is divided into two sections. Section A contains all data tables for Fall 1980; Section B contains those for Fall 1981.

Separating both sections are two maps of New York State by county. Map A displays the number of First-time Students whose permanent residence is in that county. The top number is the 1981 data, the number immediately beneath this shows the 1980 data.

Map B displays the number of First-time Students attending institutions located in that county. Again, the top number represents 1981 data, the number beneath is the 1980 information.

The main body of each section is divided into four parts; Parts I through III contained data for the appropriate Fall term, Part IV contains related summaries.

Part I (tables 1 and 2) - Part I contains summary data for the complete State University system. Table 1 arrays first-time students by load, institution and institutional type. Table 2 provides a system-wide summary of the permanent residences of first-time students.

Part II (tables 3 through 68) - Part II contains tables for each institution which display the institution's enrollment of first-time students by load and permanent residence. In addition Part II contains summary tables for each institutional type.

Part III (tables 69 through 133) - Part III contains separate tables for each New York county. This provides information on the number of first-time students attending the State University from each county in the state of New York, and specifies the State University institution in which they are enrolled. Tables 132 and 133 provide information on the institutional affiliation of first-time students whose permanent residence is outside of the State of New York.

Part IV (tables 134 through 144) - Part IV provides additional data pertaining to first-time student enrollment, including, for example, the high school status and age group of full-time, first-time students; and the distribution of full-time, first-time students by coordinating areas.

Because the meaning and application of these data will vary with the specific interests and problems characteristic of different users, we have provided the data in a format which permits maximum flexibility to the user. Any suggestions for improving this report would be appreciated.

No study of this magnitude could have been undertaken and completed without the cooperation of numerous individuals. We wish to express our appreciation to those persons on the individual campuses who have collected and provided the data to this office. Our gratitude is also extended to this office's statistical staff who are responsible for the editing and verification of the data; and the typing and secretarial staff who have the responsibility for preparation of the final typescript for publication and the proper distribution of the report.

FOOTNOTES

[a] Original constituent institutions of the State University of New York at its establishment in 1948.

[b] Date of establishment as a state college or institution.

[c] Date of incorporation into State University of New York.

[d] As of July 1, 1975, New York City Community College and the other community colleges (not shown here) sponsored by the New York City Board of Higher Education were no longer a part of the State University of New York.

NOTE: Dates preceding date indicated for establishment as a state college or institution refer to institutional antecedents of the present college or university. These may have been private institutions or controlled by a governmental entity other than the state. Intermediate institutional developments such as other college affiliation or date of first baccalaureate program offering have been omitted for the sake of brevity.
